introduction

so much is aimed toward the stars
 so much already learned and still there is no end to learning

it is as infinite as the sky
 as black and unpredictable as space
 all life is learning and our way goes only upward reaching to the stars
 life awaits us we stand on its threshold and we reach for infinity . . .

Vickie - Have fun during all your years at dedication

We, the Class of 1963, dedicate the '63 PAI to Kathryn Martin. It is perhaps especially fitting that this year's PAI be dedicated to Mrs. Martin, for she supplied the inspiration for the theme of stars. Throughout her years of teaching, she has tried to instill in her students high standards and unwillingness to compromise with the half-good, ideals which the stars in this book symbolize.

Mrs. Martin is genuinely interested in the welfare of young people. Her interest and willingness to help are tempered only by a profound respect for the dignity and integrity of the individual.

Seniors have traditionally undergone literary agonies as they learned the rudiments of composition. These hardships have been made somehow less arduous under the compassion and dry wit of Mrs. Martin. Always ready to help with some bit of wisdom gathered in her great adventure with life, she cheerfully shares the truth she has found.

Vicki - Well it has kind of been fun in study hall-Good luck always and have a good time this summer
Love

four years is a long time yet it is so short all the struggles . . . the joys . . . the fears all that is high school seems to slip by so quickly . . .
when you look back on it but then . . . each test was as eternal as the sky that lies before us

soon it will be all over there will no longer be the security of these old buildings and we will never have it again but our high school education over we are scarcely beginning . . .
and the road can only lead upward

The American Field Service is a student exchange program on the high school level. Founded in 1945, the organization places foreign teen-agers in American homes and high schools for a year. Young Americans are given a like chance to experience life abroad in countries all around the world. The motto of the AFS, "Walk together, talk together, and ye shall find peace," summarizes its purpose.

The ICYE, International Christian Youth Exchange, is another exchange program in which Tam is involved. Andreas Wiesand, from Baden-Baden, Germany, is attending Tam in place of Kay Stewart, who is currently living in Joenköping, Sweden. The purpose of the ICYE is to provide living experience in communication and relationship between high schools of different backgrounds.

The International Club was founded to promote international understanding through exchange programs; the group organizes various fund drives in support of this purpose.

Steve Detsch and Kathy Bloom contemplate the rigors of life abroad.

Expect the unexpected, the motto of the Experiment in International Living, is truly indicative of the program. There is one thing that may be expected, however — whatever happens, wherever one goes, the experience is bound to be wonderful and unforgettable.

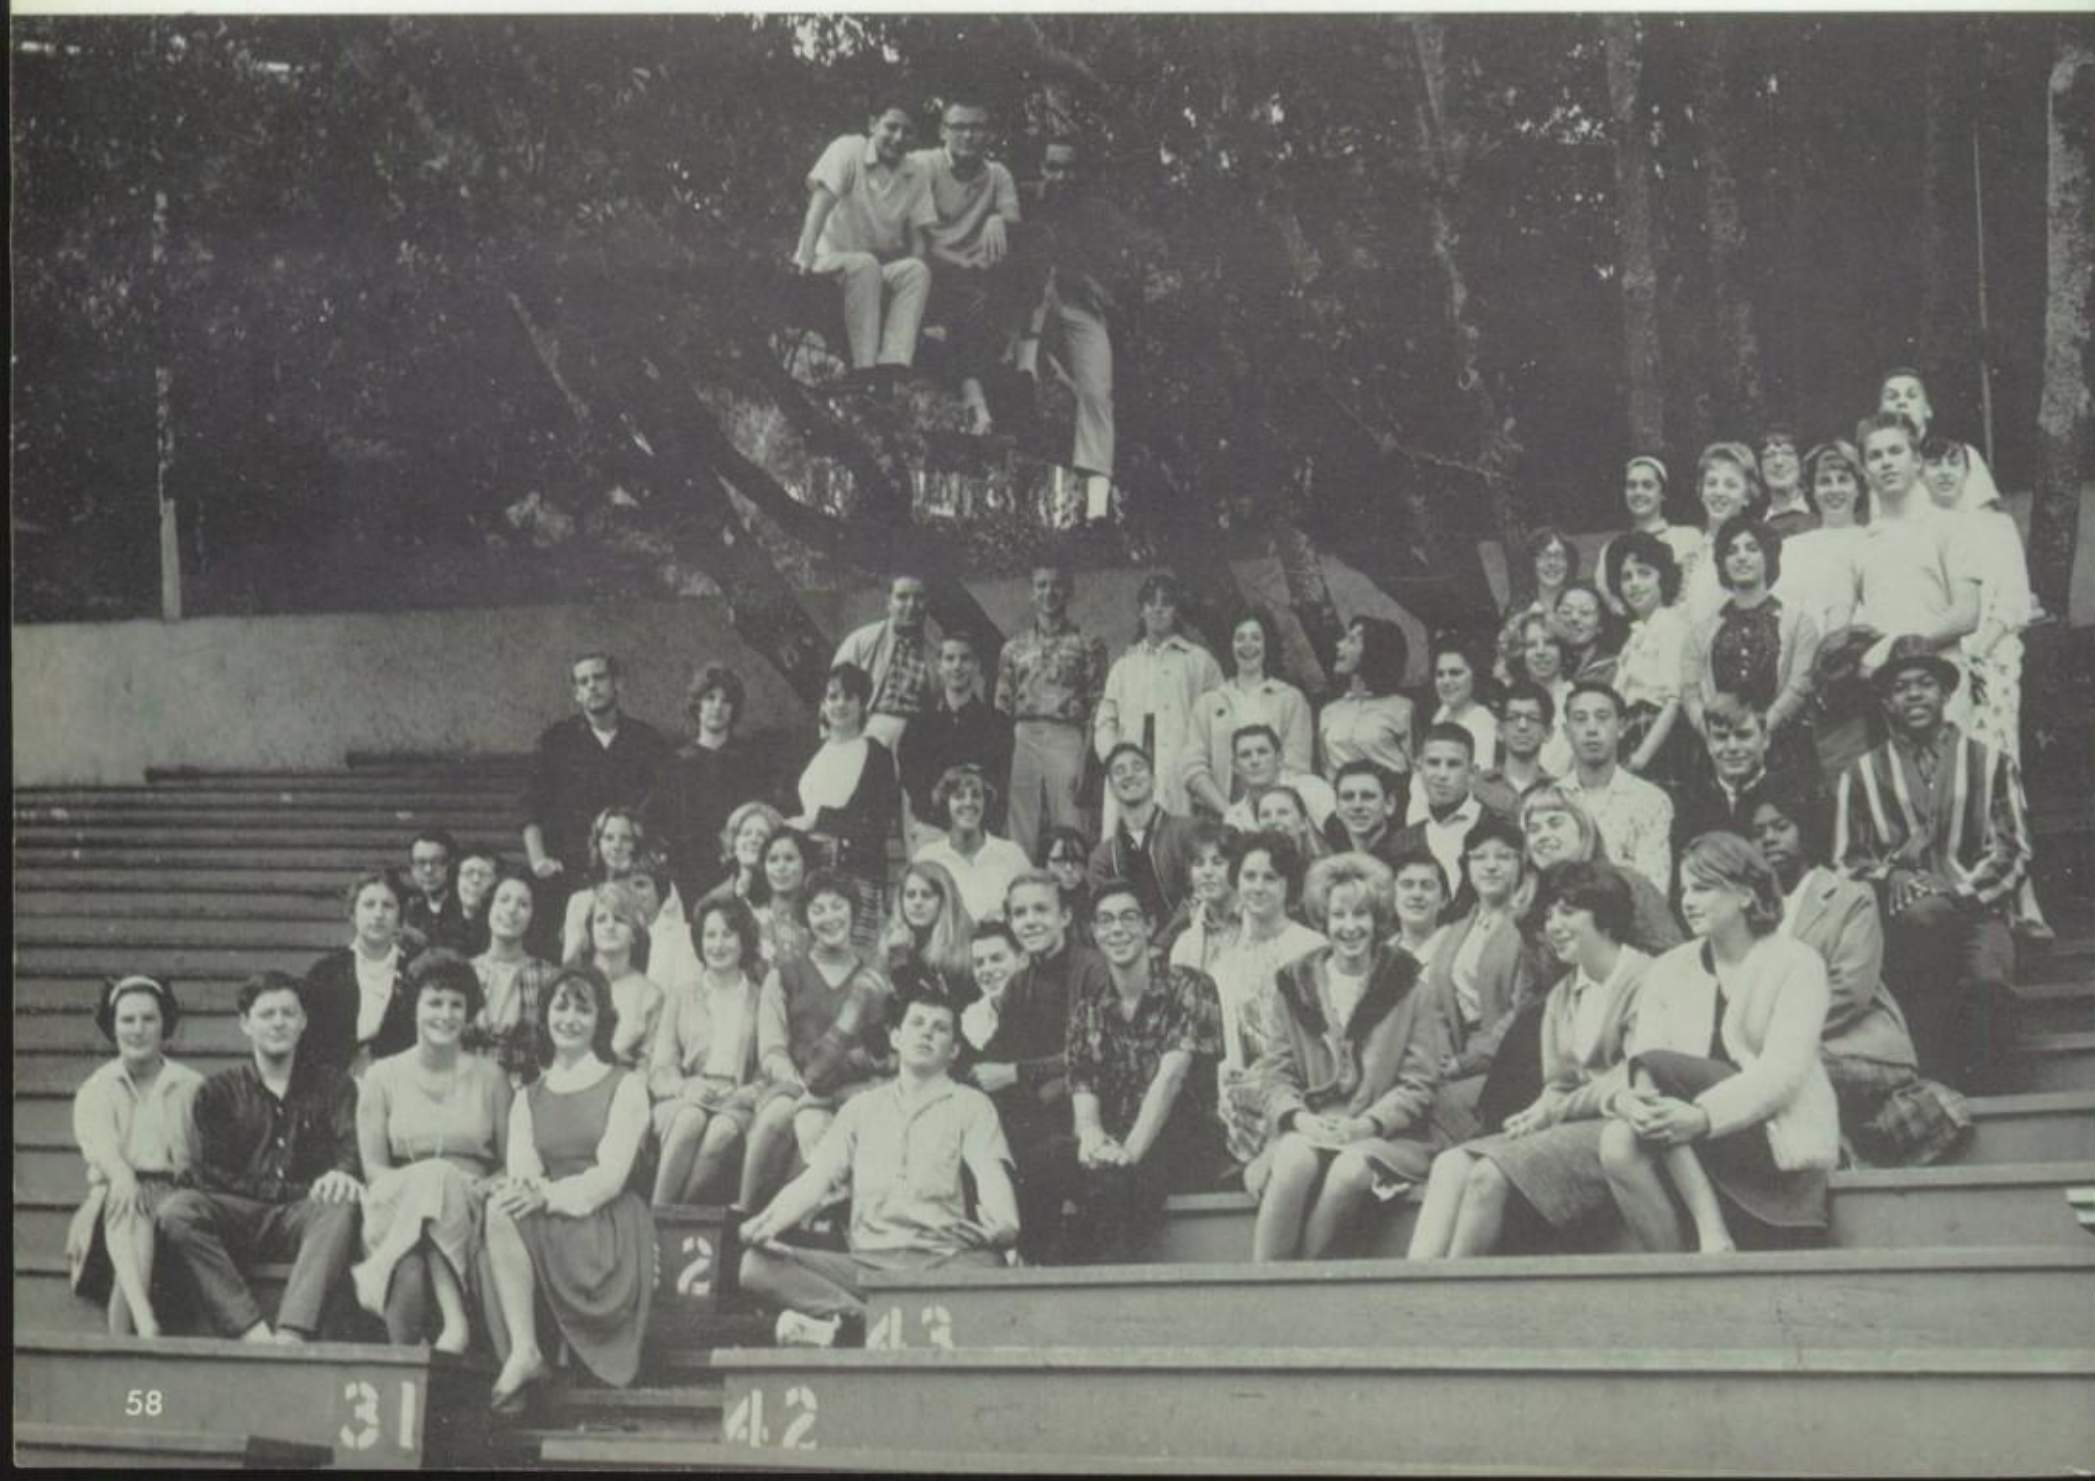

In one September week, the Dan Rein Fan Club grew from a suggestion to the second largest club at Tam. Only Honor T has more members.

The purpose of the Dan Rein Fan Club is to promote free expression and encourage individual thought. The Soapbox Forums held in the Freshman Court were a natural offspring of this individualistic feeling. At the Forums members and non-members presented interesting and sometimes controversial opinions about Student Congress, rallies, and world crises.

The Dan Rein Fan Club also broadened itself culturally by attending several plays at the Actors' Workshop.

the crucible

The Crucible, which played in Ruby Scott Auditorium on March 20, 21, 22, and 23, represents the first serious dramatic effort at Tam in many years. Directed by Mr. Daniel Caldwell, the play featured Robert Young as John Proctor, John Younger as Reverend Parris, and Francis Hamit as Deputy-Governor Danforth. It is hoped that Tam will see many more productions such as The Crucible in future years.

"I did too wash your bib with whiter, brighter All."

"Come now, Proctor, confess."

amelia goes to the ball

Lead Jan McCready sings of her plight to Police Chief Dan Smith while his minions look on.

The Tamalpais Music Department, under the direction of Mr. Robert Greenwood, presented Amelia Goes to the Ball, a Menotti comic opera, on April 4th and 5th. The performance marked the West Coast premiere of the one-act piece. Leads were Jan McCready as Amelia, Terry McCue as Amelia's husband, Jonne Golden as Amelia's friend, George Duke as her lover, and Dan Smith as the police chief.

Especially good performances were turned in by Jan and George.

Although Tam has presented many light musical pieces in the past, Amelia marked the first attempt at a full-scale opera. The audiences hoped that more such attempts will follow.

The Writing Club, led by able Pete Liederman, was slow in gathering momentum. The members read some of their creative works and tried to become better literary critics. Some of the members' works were printed in the Tam News and received substantial praise.

The Ski Club engages in its favorite athletic activity.

The founders of the Ski Club were presumably devotees of the old Norwegian snow sport; their successors have been forced, due to lack of snow, to engage in other athletic enterprises. Under the able leadership of President John Hammond the Club planned and undertook several trips to the snow country.

spirit

Spring Rally Commissioner, Jim Durbin, points with pride to the bulletin board bearing evidence of the victorious movement of Tam's mighty Indians.

"The T", now a familiar sight at Tam sport events, was constructed and primarily financed by Skip Aivazion, Bob Carlton and Gordon Carrier.

Big Game Queen, Vicki Denterlein, and court, Liz Palmer, Vicki Poling, Stephanie Smith, and Laurretta Smith, brought beauty as well as spirit to the Tam-Drake game, which Tam handily won.

The rallies, co-ordinated by Tony Houston during the fall semester, showed the variety needed to interest the entire student body. Tam students were able to enjoy the music of The San Francisco Symphony Orchestra as well as being entertained by folk singing groups and the Triodes.

Fall songleaders, Joan Pryor, Ruth Randolph, Carol Bergan, Barbara Sanocki, Lynn Crawford, Stephanie Wickham, and Linda Goodfellow, proved both energetic and original in their numerous routines. Led by head songleader, Suzi Cook, they worked diligently to make our football season a memorable one.

Tam's '62 football season was filled with pep and enthusiasm because of the efforts of spirited head, Ken Robin, and the Go T's. From Left: Kathy Walker, Ken Robin, Judy Dexter.

The Hi-Jinks, Shelley MacDonald, Joan Pryor, John Hammond, and head yell leader, Marty White, worked industriously to make the '62 basketball season a successful one. They ended it with well-executed cheers and yells which added to the enjoyment and excitement of the T.O.C.

The Down Beats kept the promise of head song-leader, Mary Beth May, to combine jazz and rhythm in changing and bettering song leading routines. Top Row: Janie Watson, Vicki Polling, Mary Beth May, Stephanie Sullivan, Patty Graham. Bottom: Shelley Smith, Donna Derrick, Liz Jay.

The Tamettes worked conscientiously to provide regular entertainment during football season. Their labor was recognized in the form of an invitation to participate in the East-West Shrine Game.

The Tam News is published every third week. Thus, each editor must meet a three-week deadline, and deadline pressure has brought out interesting results. Although better than most high school newspapers, the Tam News sprinkles its pages gaily with such things as the population of Luxembourg and reporters' stories about how they could not get stories. The members of the News Staff hold Halloween, Christmas, and birthday parties while not engaged in meeting deadlines.

The '63 PAI is a break with tradition; we have made this break not for the sake of novelty but to bring Tam a yearbook which reflects its great creative and artistic capabilities.

The staff owes a great debt to Mr. Hull who, with good will and unflagging enthusiasm, pulled us out of the morasses of deadlines, lost pictures, and the myriad problems besetting a staff.

The great strength of Tam's varsity football team blossomed in the Castlemont game. Picked as losers, Tam overwhelmed the Peninsula team and, after whipping Santa Rosa, went into league play.

Tam held its first league opponent, Marin Catholic, scoreless easily. The October 13 game with Redwood was postponed due to rain until Thanksgiving morning. Powered by Warren Domino, Tam steamrolled over Terra Linda, San Rafael, Drake, and Novato. Novato was the only team able to score against Tam.

As Thanksgiving drew nearer and nearer, local sports writers began to refer to the Tam-Redwood game as "a showdown." Both teams were undefeated in league play. Pressure built up on the athletes.

On Thanksgiving morning 9500 people poured into the College of Marin stadium to watch the battle. Injuries had forced first-string quarterback Bill Gillingham, as well as Tony Houston and Rich Hamilton, to watch the game from the sidelines.

These injuries made the difference. For the first time in the season, a rival team had defeated Tam and a cheerless group of athletes had to settle for second place.

Andy Segal
Head Manager

The Junior Varsity Football Team, coached by Mr. Marshall and Mr. Chavez, had a poor season, unrepresentative of their potential. Led by such powerhouses as Bruce Crawford, Gene Howell, Bob Klein, Jim Mikelson and Ted Carrilo, the J.V. Football team, always trying its hardest, fought its way through all opposition. Due to fumbles, incomplete passes and a general lack of teamwork the J.V.'s ended the M.C.A.L. season with one win, four losses and two ties.

frosh football

The Freshman Football Team had a tremendous season. With such battering brutes as Earny Bergman, Tom Lacey and Doug Harwood, they smashed their way through all competition. The powerful Frosh, led by coaches Ahlsten and Healy, passed, kicked, and tackled their way to an all loss, no win season. The dynamic Frosh coaches attribute their losses to the fact that they let all the boys get in and play each game.

varsity basketball

Although posting only a 4-6 record before the MCAL season, the Tamalpais Indians, coached by Ed Chavez, looked strong enough to take the league championship.

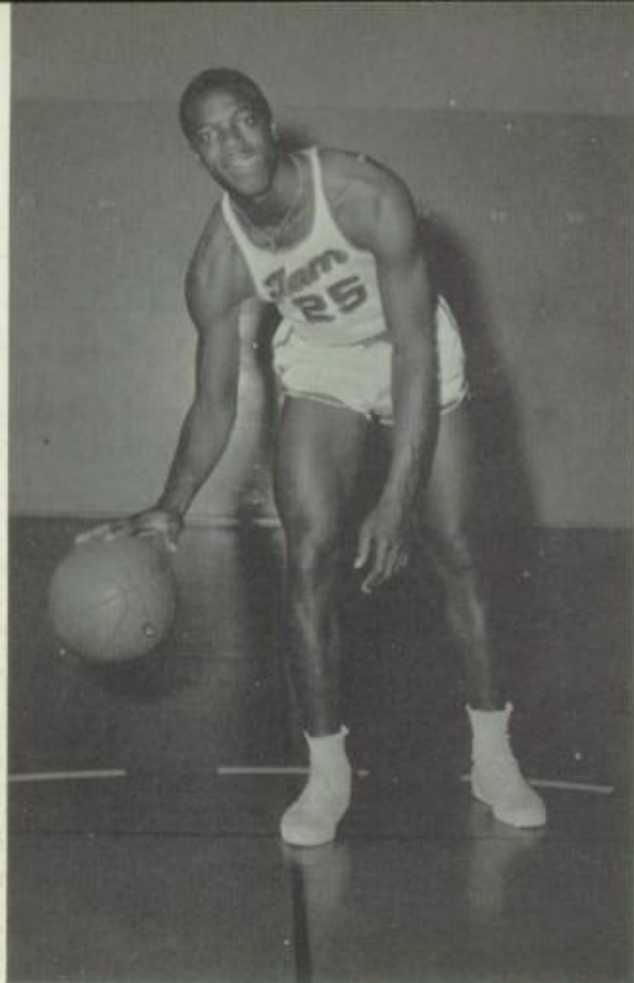

The Indians vengefully stomped over Redwood's team, and then, liking the taste of victory, soundly trounced Drake, Terra Linda, Novato, San Rafael and Marin Catholic. At the half-way point of the season Tam looked like a sure bet for the MCAL championship and for a trip to the Tournament of Champions in Berkeley.

Then the Tam cagers went out on the courts for the second half of the league and repeated their phenomenal record of wins. Once again Redwood, Drake, Terra Linda, and Novato fell to their knees before mighty Tamalpais. Seeing that the championship was his, Coach Chavez was able to rotate team members so that each one had a chance to play.

The Mighty Five who stormed the MCAL and took Tam to the tournament of Champions were: Forwards Jim Durbin and Ellis Williams, Center Art Foster and Guards Warren Domino and Art Ford. All five will graduate this June. Boys to watch for on next year's varsity squad are: Robin Prosch, Chris Scheubach, and Cedric Collett.

"... let's do the twist."

The Tamites cheer as Art Foster grabs another rebound.

Coach Ed Chavez's Tamalpais Indians broke the jinx that had been troubling all TOC-going Marin teams since the Marin County Athletic League was founded.

Things looked pretty glum for Tamalpais after Sacred Heart clobbered the Indians 61 to 36 in the tourney. During the first half the Irish, from San Francisco, shot with an amazing 97% accuracy.

The cheering section went wild as Tam pulled ahead and beat Montgomery in the second game 49 to 47. And the jinx was broken.

The only thing Tam needed then to beat opponent, Watsonville, was superb basketball. Coach Chavez smiled as the final gun went off, with the score: Tam 51—Watsonville 45.

Leaping high into the air, Art Foster attempts to throw the ball down court.

There's more to basketball than meets the eye.

It may look as if Art is doing "The Fly" but actually he's doing his best to not commit a foul.

The freshman basketball team didn't have a very good season. Even though they weren't the best in the league Coach Irvin's team served its purpose; to better acquaint freshman boys with the code of good sportsmanship and the game of basketball.

The Junior Varsity squad started the season off with a bang, winning their first two games, but ended with a 2-9 record. Allen Polancheck, Mike Davelos, Mark Desmet, Gayne Conyers, and Dan Hayden comprised the starting five.

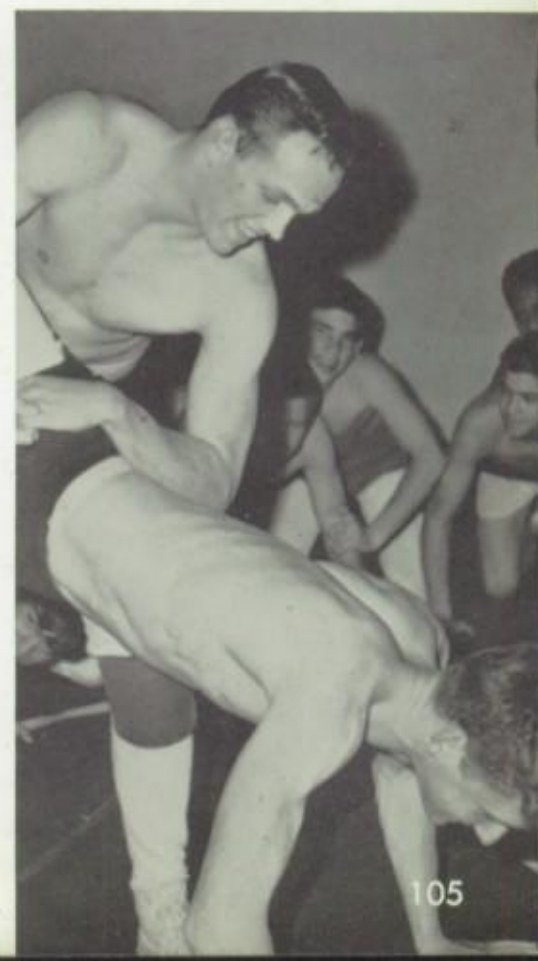

The wrestling team this year, while experiencing a number of losses, developed satisfactorily through the year.

wrestling

Although the wrestling team posted a poor record this season, Coach Healy was not disappointed, stating that the primary aim of the wrestling program this year was to introduce more boys to wrestling as a sport and to build the foundation of a new athletic competition at Tam.

Bob Washington, John Elder and Creighton Wyatt, juniors, and sophomores, will be the boys to watch next season.

Coach Ray Bell expected a fine team this spring. He based many of his hopes on returning lettermen from last year's team. Steve Long, Rick Miller, and John Hammond comprised a strong returning group. Coach Bell also expected some help from players moving up from last year's J.V. squad. Second baseman Rick Miller filled in for injured Chuck Locati, and did well.

This year's Indians played a hard-hitting and fast-running brand of ball. Steve Long, Larry Pierce and John Walker hit long balls, and John Hammond, Bob Osborne and Ev White streaked around the bases.

Unfortunately, Coach Bell's expectations were not entirely fulfilled, and the Varsity baseball team lost games continually.

Coach Pete Beldon was quite contented with this year's J.V. team. He expected to take at least a third in MCAL play. Standouts were Ted Carrillo, Marty Anthony, and Lawrence Grey.

Shortstop Ted Carrillo rounds second and prepares to throw to first.

Coach Ahlsten was confident that with the raw material he had he could get at least a "third" in the MCAL. Outstanding freshman athletes were Tom Lecy, Davy Barca, Charley Callister and Earny Bergman.

Coach Wata's hackers, led by dynamic Terry Van Buskirk, are by far the most powerful in the country. Coach Wata predicted that his team would take the championship with ease.

Coach Wata tells Elwood Frink that he has just been dropped from the team.

Coach George Gustafson's varsity swimming team was the second most powerful squad in Marin county. Coach Gus predicted that his varsity guppies would have taken the championship if they had beaten San Rafael.

Outstanding swimmers were versatile Tinsley Stetson, freestyler Jack Martin, butterflyer Steve Bush and long distance man Steve Donaldson.

Senior Tinsley Stetson, co-captain of the varsity, was the mainstay of the team, bringing in 10 to 12 points each meet by himself. Co-captain Jack Martin also contributed more than his share of points each meet.

Although Tam will be losing the powerful senior swimmers, the future of swimming at Tam looks bright.

The J.V. squad, led by Paul Gelardi and Frank Hayhurst, also hopes to take the MCAL championship. Their biggest contender is San Rafael. If the better J.V.'s don't draft up to varsity, Tam will probably take the league championship. Emmet Yeazell and Frank Hayhurst hold the records for the 100 free and 50 free. Both will go to varsity and swim free style. Among the finer J.V. athletes are: Larry Keissig, Herb Maxey, Dan Kaufman, Steve Shields, and John Edwards.

Tam's C swim team was, without a doubt, the strongest team of its kind in Marin County. A few of the better C athletes were Thor Dilcher, Rod Levy, Bob Praun and Bob Rogers.

Coach Vezie had an unusually good team this spring. Sophomores Andre, Hewett and Collins showed great potential for future years.

Creighton Wyatt showed both determination and courage in his diving attempts.

Tamalpais was a tough team to beat this season. Bruce Crawford, Renato Sotille and Kees Tuinzing looked very good on the courts. Coach Inman implied that this was a year of training and perfecting techniques rather than a year of winning. Mr. Inman also said that he has been training freshmen, so that the future for tennis at Tamalpais looks bright.

Coach Davlin, with the assistance of returning lettermen, expected to place near the top in MCAL standings. The returning lettermen were Ellis Williams, Warren Domino, Art Foster, and Bill Gillingham. Jim Durbin came through on the high-hurdles, Foster on the high-jump, Gillingham in the medium distances and Ellis Williams and Warren Domino in the sprints. Coach Davlin had many sophomores training on the varsity squad and getting the experience they will need for next year's team.

Led by returning lettermen Terrel, Green, Corceran, Cleland and McCallum, this year's C track team is expected to do well. Coach Irvin stated that his team was actually a testing and training ground for boys who need experience before moving up to the B squad.

The B squad, not pictured because of technical difficulties, is expected to run away with the MCAL championship as we go to press.

Looking good on the track are Mike Holloway, Darryl Berry, Jim Lopes, Ray Stark, Mike Malone and Fred Hilton. Holloway is one of the fastest sophomores ever produced by Tam, and an all around track and field man. Berry, a fine hurdler and sprinter, will run hurdles and sprints.

Hilton, Malone and Stark are all around track and field men who do well in all their events.

Steve Hewett's smooth swan was a sure bet for points during swimming season.

sports . . .

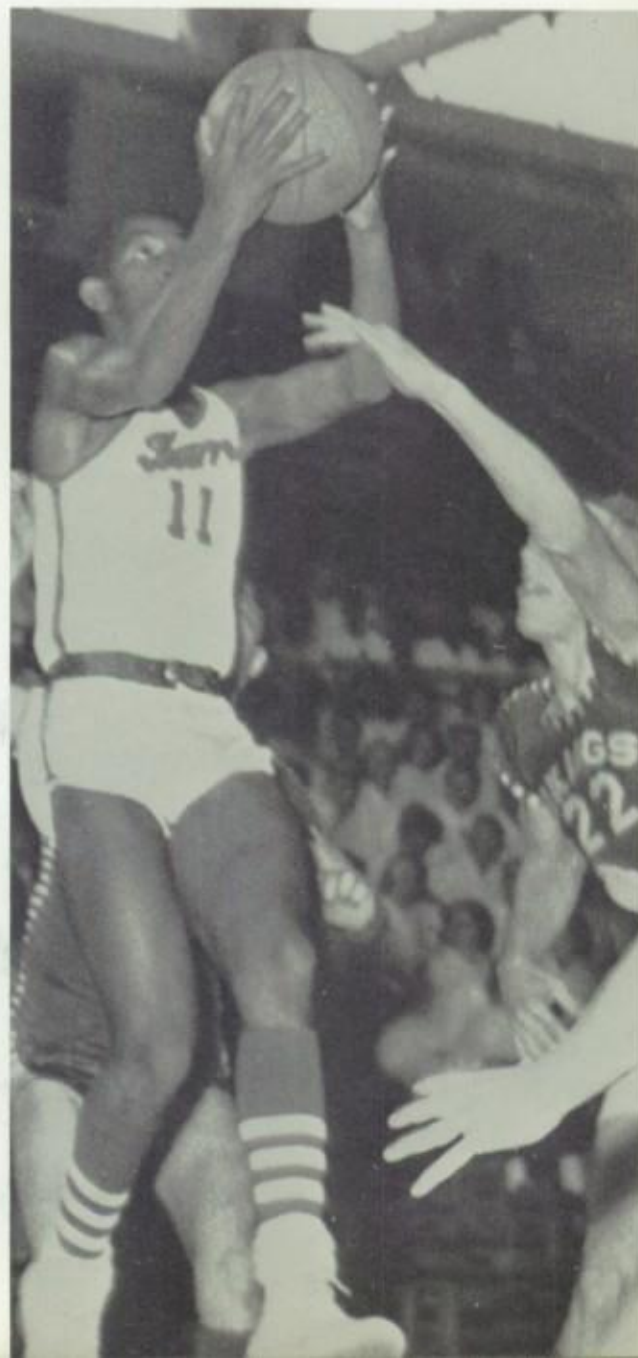

One of the most extensive and colorful of activities around the Tamalpais campus is the great number and variety of athletic events. Everything from golf and tennis to football, basketball and baseball is offered. Events to suit just about anyone's taste are held: tiddlywinks, track, swimming, wrestling, all found right here at Tam. Pictures of a few of these events are offered on this page; to prod someone into going out for a sport, or to evoke pleasant memories in the minds of graduating athletes.

It takes a mighty man to bring Warren Domino down.

Ev White makes ready to clobber the ball out of the park.

All through the basketball season Jim Durbin consistently sank baskets. Here he is setting one in, "nice and smooth."

Peggie Allen, a vivacious blond, has consistently set a high academic and moral standard. Contributing her talents to the French Club, Nu Alpha Tau, and Honor T, she has proved herself a valuable member of the high school. Peg hopes to major in anthropology and library science at Mills.

Warren Domino, an outstanding high school athlete, has contributed his skill as player and team inspirer to various athletic teams throughout his high school career. Starring in football, basketball and track, Warren has earned the right to wear the Block T for his participation in all three sports.

Gregory Cory is presently serving as Student Body President as a culmination of his activities as a member of the high school community. Greg has served on numerous organizations and participated in many sports. He plans to attend a liberal arts college and to do graduate work in engineering.

George Duke is one of Tam's most talented student musicians. He has marched with the band, played with the orchestra and delighted audiences with his singing role in Amelia Goes to the Ball. George plans to use his many music scholarships to attend San Francisco State to major in music education and photography.

Penny Iyama, one of Tam's scientific whiz-kids, will receive honors upon entry to the University of California. She is a life member and sometime officer of CSF and Honor T and has served as an officer of Nu Alpha Tau. Penny loves to ski on water and snow and is an accomplished dressmaker.

Steve Long, a member of the varsity football and baseball teams, headed the self-government Committee this spring. His scholastic record has qualified him for Life Membership in Honor T. Steve will major in business administration at the College of Marin and at the University of California.

Jan McCready has sung her way to high school prominence. She has performed in many musicals, including leading roles in Carousel and Amelia Goes to the Ball. A life member of Honor T, Jan will use her Teachers' Association Scholarship to study music and drama at San Francisco State College.

Bill Rice has been a leader in student body government since he entered Tam four years ago. Also an athlete, Bill has lettered in football and baseball. As the 1963 PAI goes to press Bill has not made his after-graduation plans known.

Sandra Ringelman has served as a class officer and as the president of the Future Teachers Club. Sandy student-teaches in Mill Valley elementary schools and would like to continue teaching as an after-college career. She is especially interested in art and enjoys visiting museums and galleries.

Pamela Windsor, well known for her boundless school spirit, has contributed her energy to numerous activities. Presently Editor of the Tam News, she also heads the Election Survey Committee and is a member of the Judicial Committee. Pam wants to obtain her teaching credential in college.

Art Foster, extremely varied in his approach to student activities, has contributed consistently and well to all phases of school life. An outstanding athlete and student body officer, he is also an honor student. In college he will major in secondary education with the aim of becoming a high school mathematics teacher.

Stephen Yeazell will study political science at college. Interested in reading and classical music, he has been an Honor T officer, Junior Class Veep, Pai editor and a member of the Judicial and Election Survey Committees. An AFS scholar to Germany, he has won awards in science and arts and has represented Tam at Boys State.

The 1963 PAI represents an effort to bring Tamalpais a book that will reflect the school in its many aspects. Not all sides of school life warrant praise; where we have felt that an activity or a group was not worthy of praise, we have criticized. The criticism thus aimed has been made that the school might improve; we have never criticized maliciously or for the sake of criticism.

The staff has fluctuated in number and productive capacity but has always attempted to create a book worthy of the high standards of the school.

The Editor should like to thank especially: Taylor Publishing Company and its representatives for understanding and care in the printing of the PAI, Kee Coleman and their photographers Ken Nunes, Ray D'Aragon, and Rip Searby for most of the pictures in the book, our advisor, Mr. Hull, for guiding the book through the troubled waters of deadlines and staff change, the entire staff for a truly dedicated effort.

Stephen Yeazell

Editor, 1963 PAI
